1. Overview

The sole function of the system is managing an Online Chess Club where game lovers can learn and play Chess games for fun and take part in tournaments.

A general user can view tutorials and learn how to play chess. A registered user can play games against their friends or random opponents. They can use the save and restore feature to play multiple games simultaneously. They will be rated for their game play.

A tournament player can take part in online tournaments. The admin/tournament manager conducts all tournaments and manages the database. The tournament director will announce the start date for a tournament, the last date for registration and the maximum number of players that can take part. A tournament can either be open for all registered players or user rankings maybe used as a cut-off. Some tournaments may also have cash prizes.

The requirements for using this application are:

- Java Runtime Environment
- A web server (Apache Tomcat)
- A database engine (IBM DB2)

This manual itself is divided into three sections (excluding this overview):

1. General users – Features for general users.
2. Registered users – Features for registered users.
3. Admin – Features for admin.

Each section is divided into further subsections detailing on more specific aspects of the application.

History of Chess

The origins of chess are not exactly clear, though most believe it evolved from earlier chess-like games played in India almost two thousand years ago. The game of chess we know today has been around since the 15th century where it became popular in Europe.

The Goal of Chess

Chess is a game played between two opponents on opposite sides of a board containing 64 squares of alternating colors. Each player has 16 pieces: 1 king, 1 queen, 2 rooks, 2 bishops, 2 knights, and 8 pawns. The goal of the game is to checkmate the other king. Checkmate happens when the king is in a position to be captured (in check) and cannot escape from capture.

Starting a Game

At the beginning of the game the chessboard is laid out so that each player has the white (or light) color square in the bottom right-hand side. The chess pieces are then arranged the same way each time. The second row (or rank) is filled with pawns. The rooks go in the corners, then the knights next to them, followed by the bishops, and finally the queen, who always goes on her own matching color (white queen on white, black queen on black), and the king on the remaining square.

4.3 Manage tournaments where he can create tournaments, accept tournament registrations and make the groups among the users.

Tournament Name	Start Date	End Date
t2	2013-04-15	2013-05-09
